Grip Texture	The Standard texture out of the mold is a short bump that most people are happy with. If you want to add more texture it is done after the stock is out of the mold using a material that will add a milky appearance to the areas where it is applied. The other two textures available are Medium bump – an aggressive texture for bare hands. Heavy bump – you will need to use gloves. Both medium and heavy require masking and texturing after demolding - $50 added cost. Make a note here of the texture you want - <input type="text"/>
Inletting	CAD files are on hand for some of the more popular actions that allows precise CNC inletting. We're working to expand the list. Note the components you will be using so your stock can be inlet correctly. If you don't want inletting just leave this section blank. (This is an extra cost item – see the website for accurate pricing)

Special Instructions	<input type="text"/>
Disclaimer: If you decide to change the specifications of your stock please check that we haven't already started to build it. Send the new order sheet with a new date then confirm that we have received it, preferably by email. We need a paper trail to make sure it's done right. NOTE: Do NOT send any firearms components to Felso Composites from outside of Canada. If things go badly, it has the potential to change your life in unpleasant ways.
